

Andrea Brown Scholarship

Andrea Brown is employed at Arkansas State University where she serves as Occupational Therapy Assistant Program Director and Assistant Professor in the occupational therapy assistant and occupational therapy doctoral program. She received a Master of Science in Occupational Therapy from the University of Central Arkansas in 2007. Following graduation Andrea began her career in an early intervention facility. In 2009, Andrea transitioned to Miracle Kids Success Academy where she became the first employed occupational therapist and assisted with the development of the academy. In 2014, Andrea became the therapy director for Miracle Kids Success Academy where she led occupational, physical, and speech-language therapy teams in five locations. In 2016, Andrea began the transition to full-time academia after obtaining 10 years of clinical experience in pediatric practice. In 2019 Andrea was promoted to the position of Program Director for the Occupational Therapy Assistant Program. Her areas of clinical expertise and research interests include: Autism Spectrum Disorder, Pediatrics, and Sensory Processing and Integration, Resiliency, and Interprofessional Practice. She also provides consultative and research-based intervention to children and families in the NEA region. Andrea is married to her husband Adam and they have three children, Sadie, SeraKate, and Silas. She values spending time with her family and seeing the progress of her students in their educational pursuits.
